

The Alliance Française

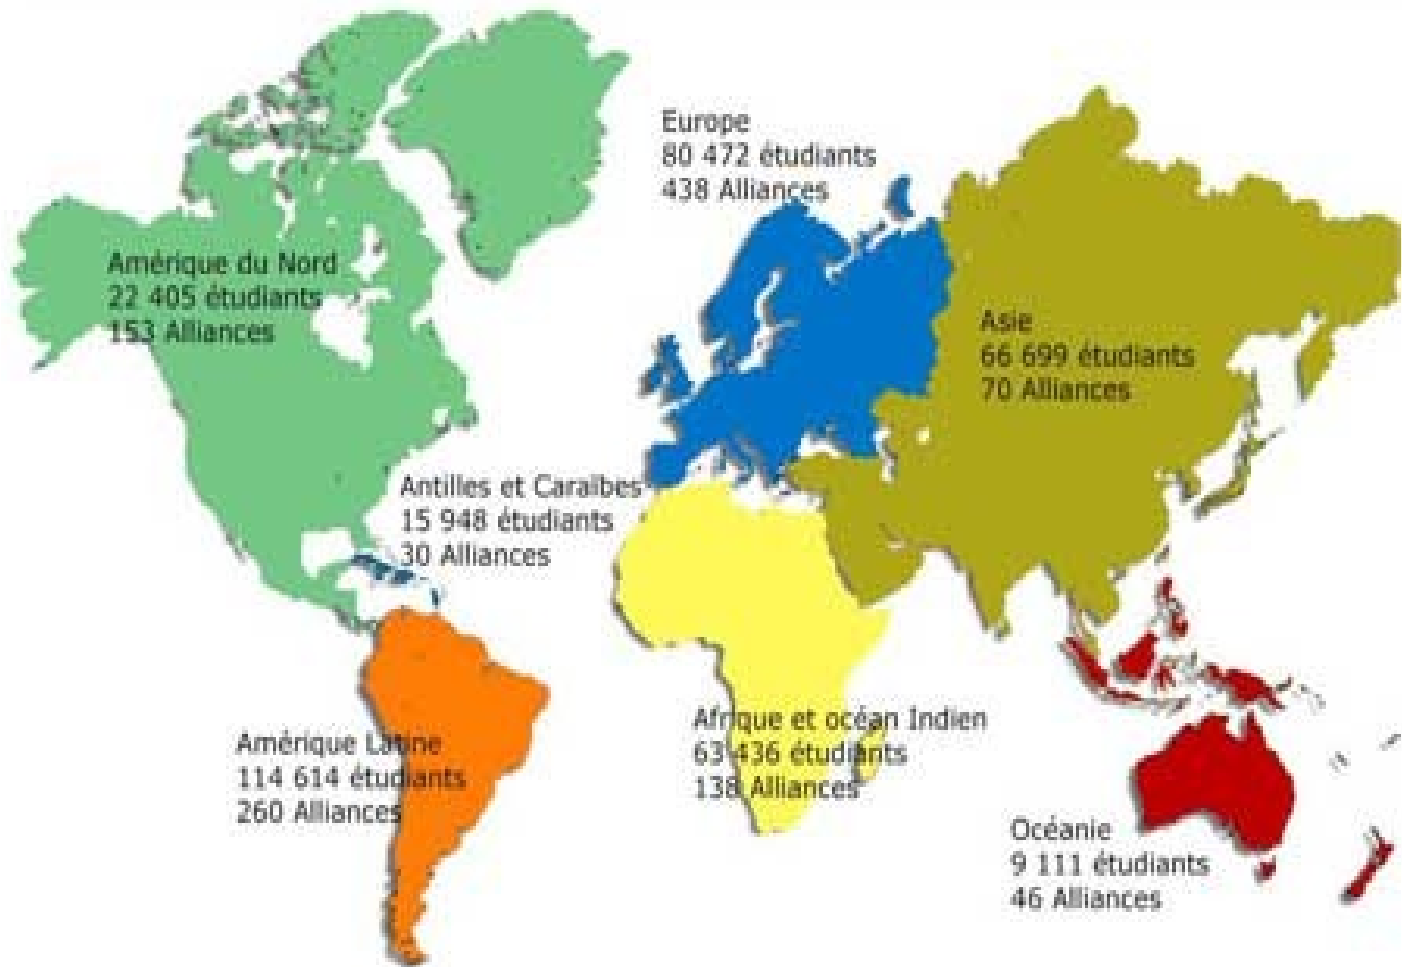

The Alliance Française

Created in 1883, the Alliance Française promotes the French language and Francophone cultures around the world through its international network of associations of local law.

Now present in 135 countries, the Alliance française welcomes every year more than 450 000 students in its language courses and about 6 million viewers to its cultural events.

The General Delegate

- The General Delegate is the link between services and institutions in Italy and France.
- His main task is the development of a policy of dissemination of French language and culture in Italy by centralizing the exchange of resources.

The Alliance Française in Italy

The Federation of Alliances françaises in Italy was created in 1996. It shows the will of the majority of Italian Alliances françaises to form a more global association. Its vocation is to give momentum to the regional, national or international network to promote a better cooperation between Alliances Françaises.
